CONTENTS

Preface .............................................................................................................................................. 7

PART I
Idea and Areas of Corporate Social Responsibility

María Dolores Sánchez-Fernández, Ciliana Regina Colombo
Sustainable development and corporate social responsibility: a holistic view........ 11

Andrzej Chodyński, Wojciech Huszlak
Determinants of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). Implementation in Companies.............................................................. 23

Vesna Milovanović
Corporate social responsibility as an element of total quality management................................................................. 43

PART II
Factors of Socially Responsible Business

Bojan Krstić, Milica Tasić
Sustainable integrated waste management: environmentally responsible, socially acceptable and economically justified solution for the modern business conditions................................................................. 59

Ksenija Denčić-Mihajlov, Mladen Krstić
Socially responsible investing in recycling projects: the application of cost-benefit analysis ......................................................... 83

Janusz Ziarko
Occupational health and safety in a socially responsible enterprise .......... 103

Marta Woźniak-Zapór
E-learning in the context of companies’ informatization and investment in employees’ knowledge and professional competences, as well as in the context of community work................................................................. 121
PART III
Corporate Social Responsibility in the international context

Anna Piziak-Rapacz
Political Environment and the Necessity for Dialogue with Stakeholders of the Energy Market in Poland ................................................................. 141

Marija Džunić, Nataša Golubović
Work-Life Balance: Comparative Analysis of FYR Macedonia, Montenegro and Serbia ................................................................. 155

Maja Ivanovic-Djukic, Ivana Simic
The analysis of socially responsible behaviour of organisations towards employees in the republic of Serbia ................................................................. 175

Krzysztof Waśniewski
Investor-state disputes and the TTIP – is it a new challenge for corporate responsibility? ......................................................................................... 195